

Information regarding the coronavirus (COVID-19)

DigiPlex is monitoring the situation continuously and follows the information and recommendations from local authorities in the markets where DigiPlex has operations. Employees, customers and suppliers are urged to stay updated with information from local authorities.

DigiPlex customers and suppliers

DigiPlex urge customers and have instructed suppliers to limit the number of people at DigiPlex locations to only essential personnel as well as to postpone non-essential deliveries. Direct dialogue between customers, suppliers and DigiPlex is ongoing.

Segregation

To reduce operational risk, DigiPlex locations are being segregated with dedicated teams established at each location of operation. Members of these teams are not permitted to travel between DigiPlex locations or physically interact with members of other dedicated teams. At each operational site, the dedicated teams will be further segregated where possible.

Travel

In accordance with authorities' recommendations, and in relation to the responsibilities DigiPlex has towards its employees, customers and contractors, DigiPlex employees will not make any business trips unless deemed essential and approved by senior management. Employees should work from home during 14 days post their travel. DigiPlex encourage that private travel follows the same instructions.

Meetings / Conferences / Seminars / Events

DigiPlex employees will not attend non-essential meetings / conferences / seminars or in person, only via digital / virtual means. Essential meetings / conferences / seminars that involve DigiPlex employees are allowed with caution, and employees may be instructed to work from home for 14 days following such an event.

Information from DigiPlex on the coronavirus will be updated continuously.
